Beau Johnson, Managing Director of Chinamerica Holdings, speaks on the China Panel at the 2009 Deal Flow Media Reverse Merger Conference

HOUSTON, June 11, 2009. Beau Johnson, Managing Director of Chinamerica Holdings, speaks on the China Panel at the 2009 Deal Flow Media Reverse Merger Conference in Las Vegas. Beau Johnson joined leading thought leaders in the Chinese Reverse Merger space to discuss whether China will provide the fertile ground for the Chinese Reverse Mergers in '09. Panelists included: Beau Johnson of Chinamerica Holdings, Alan Donenfeld of Paragon Capital; Gordon McBean of Euro Pacific Capital; and Anthony Sarkis of Newbridge Securities.

The panel expressed optimism for the future of investing in China, the significant opportunities existing today within the public market investment space and the necessary knowledge to leverage those opportunities. Additionally, Mr. Johnson addressed the unique current and future growth factors continuing to propel China into double digit GDP. The panel explored how Chinese reverse mergers remain a crucial part of the market and growth Chinese companies are more receptive than ever to go public in the United States.

"Chinese US listed companies are greatly undervalued due to hedge fund redemptions, market imbalances and pressures – these market conditions have created great opportunity for public market investors and a necessity on behalf of companies to evaluate US equity sources and continue the trend for Chinese operating companies to go public in the US. Understanding the nuances of the China market, the management teams and motivations of these companies and the complexities of doing business in China is mission critical to capitalizing on the tremendous opportunities that exist today. We know China and we know how to assist these companies be successful US public companies."
